

Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia 24401

RECOGNIZED BY
AMERICAN REVOLUTION
BICENTENNIAL
ADMINISTRATION

Mary Baldwin

a go
go
dp

In This Issue

- 3 NSF Project Heightens Awareness of Science Careers for Women
by Sandy Harris '76
- 6 Jaws
by Dr. Elizabeth B. Conant
- 8 Tennis Scores at MBC
- 12 New Dimensions News
- 14 Advisory Board of Visitors
- 19 Schedule for Alumnae Homecoming
- 21 Class Notes
- 28 Ham and Jam
- 29 "What's Cooking for MBC"

VOLUME XXIV, NUMBER 1 March, 1976

Issued six times a year: March, July, August, September, October and November by Mary Baldwin College, Box 2445, Staunton, Virginia 24401. Second-class postage paid at Staunton, Virginia and at additional mailing offices.

Editor: Janet M. Ferguson
Assistant Editor: Mary B. Carter
Photographers: (unknown for photographs not credited)
Bob Llewellyn: cover, 2, 7, 8, 11, 12, 13
Ted Riddle: 28
Ed Thorsett: 27
Sandy Harris: 3, 4, 5

NSF Project Heightens Awareness of Science Careers for Women

by Sandy Harris, Class of 1976

"Encouraged," "inspired" and "excited" are but a few of the comments expressed by Mary Baldwin College students to an experimental program initiated July 1, 1975, to increase the number of women in science careers.

Reshaping the role perception of college women toward careers in science is the goal of a 20-month National Science Foundation (NSF) grant awarded to Mary Baldwin College. Dr. Donald Thompson, professor of psychology, at Mary Baldwin directs the project.

The study encompasses data collected from three other Virginia women's colleges—Hollins, Sweet Briar College and Randolph Macon Woman's College. The Executive Committee is made up of a representative from each of the colleges: Dr. John Mehner, professor of biology at Mary Baldwin College; Dr. Alice Bull, associate professor of biology at Hollins College; Dr. Phyllis Stevens, professor of psychology at Sweet Briar College; and Dr. Alvin C. Miller, associate professor of physics and astronomy at Randolph-Macon Woman's College.

Based on surveys at these women's colleges and on current literature, it was hypothesized that more college women would choose careers in science if there were women role models for them to emulate; if career options were made available to them through improved counseling; and if they could be assisted in developing self-confidence as women scientists through experiential learning programs.

The NSF project is a four-fold program for students, consisting of counseling by a person trained in assessment and counseling; seminars featuring successful women scientists; exposure to a video taped package on science careers; and a variety of externships in scientific careers.

At the beginning of the 1975-76 academic year, tests were given to determine present academic interests of Mary Baldwin College freshmen. The five highest areas of interest were: sociology, communications, art, zoology and psychology respectively. It is interesting to note that when Mary Baldwin junior science majors were given the same test, the same basic five areas showed the strongest interest level, but with different priorities: sociology, zoology, nursing, psychology and communications.

When asked about their attitude toward science, 85.3 percent of the freshmen and 95.8 percent of the junior science and math majors tested agreed strongly there should be an increase in the number of women in science careers.

Dinsey Cochran, a biology major from Spartanburg, S.C. planted hanging baskets at Southerns Greenhouse in Staunton during her externship, as well as learning about the operation of a greenhouse in general.

NSF Project Heightens Awareness of Science Careers for Women

Susan Dunlap, a junior from Richmond, Va. performed various tests while externing with Dr. Neal Rose at the Broad Street Veterinary Hospital in Richmond.

Stephanie Seaton, a junior from Richmond, Va. tested 30 anti-convulsive drugs on the central nervous system of mice while at A. H. Robins Pharmaceutical Research Lab in Richmond during her January externship.

Under the direction of Dr. Thompson and with NSF funding, 41 additional science oriented externships have been established within a variety of professions, and assisted in the placement and supervision of 76 students from Mary Baldwin, two from Hollins and one from Sweet Briar. In comparison, only 23 Mary Baldwin students participated in science externships in January 1975.

Approximately one-half of these students entered the community work force in the Staunton-Waynesboro area, while others traveled as far south as West Palm Beach, Fla., and as far north as Wilmington, Del., to obtain the on-the-job experience in the career of their choice.

The externship program included a wide variety of professions. Physical and occupational therapy, counseling, research, behavior modification, pharmacy, statistics, nursing, horticulture, optometry, veterinary medicine, cytogenetics, medical technology, forestry and clinical neuropsychology were included in the careers explored.

In addition to externships, a second major phase of the NSF experimental program is seminars in which women currently engaged in science careers participate in a panel discussion. To date, three of the six scheduled seminars have been held. Topics have included "The Image of the Woman Scientist" which presented women from various life styles now engaged in a scientific profession. Featured among the speakers were Mary Baldwin graduates Jennifer McHugh Haase, '71, who is a Ph.D. candidate in anatomy at Duke University; Dr. Janet White Campbell, '66, who is a research statistician for NASA in Hampton, Va.; and Anne Herndon, '67, who is an assistant professor of psychology at Wake Forest University, N.C.

Participating on a panel in the November seminar oriented toward the medical and paramedical professions, were Mary Baldwin alumnae Dr. Beneta J. Peacock, '46, Director of the Child Health Center, Pediatric Neighborhood Clinic of the Children's Hospital in Washington, D. C., and Connie Bak, '75, a certified medical technologist at King's Daughters' Hospital in Staunton.

Women in government careers, the topic of the third seminar held in February, had as one of its four speakers Diana Parker, '73, who is a chemist at the National Institutes of Health in Maryland. Future seminars will discuss careers in the behavioral and environmental sciences and science careers in industry.

Although some students responded that seminars of this type should be available during all years of school, the (52 percent) replied that the seminars would be most meaningful if presented during the freshman year in college. Thirty percent replied that the seminars would be most meaningful in the senior year of high school. One student called the seminars, "a great intellectual pep rally." "A student has an opportunity to clear up misconceptions and get new ideas and listen to one who has been through it" said another, and several felt "all students need more exposure to women in the sciences."

Katie Clore of Central City, Ky., a sophomore at MBC, externed with an optometrist, Dr. D. W. Pemberton, in Staunton.

Video tapes are the third major facet of the NSF project. Fourteen tapes of interviews with women in science have been completed and with the cooperation of the faculty at Mary Baldwin, Hollins and Sweet Briar, one 30-minute tape will be shown in the classroom of introductory, intermediate and advanced courses in the science and math departments.

A fourth area incorporated in the NSF grant is counseling. Material has been selected and developed to be used in career counseling for a group of junior science majors who responded "undecided" as to a career choice on a test given in 1975. Additionally, a three-day seminar is planned for a group of "undecided" juniors in April 1976, and a similar seminar for sophomores is planned for November 1976.

Although not quite at its half-way point, the NSF project has already received positive student feedback, as well as encouragement and assistance from the scientific community in general.

The original hypothesis that more college women would be encouraged to choose careers in science if a change in attitude toward such careers could be brought about has yet to be finalized but to date, data collected supports this hypothesis. The outcome will be measured in the percentage of students declaring majors in the sciences and math as compared to the previous year, and in any changes in the students' attitude toward science, as measured by a comparison of pre-test data with information received in post-tests.

These role models realistically depict the working world, expanding the awareness of career choices for many students before they are faced with the reality of seeking employment after graduation.

Mary Kay Schorn, of Cape Charles, a chemistry major at MBC, checks a daily log for drugs while on an externship in January at King's Daughters' Hospital, Staunton.

Dr. Donald Thompson, project director, reviews statistical data for the spinal cord project at the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center in Fishersville collected by the two Hollins girls shown as part of their externship experience.

JAWS!!!!

by Dr. Elizabeth B. Conant

The title evokes images of a nighttime swim, an aroused New England town, a diving cage, and a captain obsessed. Last summer, millions of people paid hard-earned money to be frightened by these images, and the news suggests that the captain's obsession is contagious as fishermen hound sharks in southern waters.

But sharks aren't the only fish with formidable jaws. Much less newsworthy but no less interesting is the fearsome gape of the African lungfish, Protopterus. No one is going to make a movie of it, of course, but it is time that the lungfish had its day in the sun.

In fact, sharks and lungfishes both share a venerable evolutionary history; both groups were well-established even in Devonian and Permian times, three hundred or more million years ago. But their teeth are very different. The shark's teeth are thought to be modified scales; it is as though the skin is rolled tautly over the gum lines, revealing imbricated rows of serrated triangles. As one row is brought into place, back-up rows are ready for replacement.

Lungfish teeth, on the other hand, are unlike the teeth of any other living vertebrate. They are bony extensions of the jawbones themselves, hard dentine fashioned into sharp peaks and chisel-like blades. The teeth, more properly called "tooth plates," cannot fall out or receive back-up replacements. They undergo continual upward and lateral growth, the wear of the "bite" itself keeping the blades continually sharpened.

In some jaws, you can see that ridges in the covering enamel coincide with small cusps on some of the tooth surfaces, suggesting that the tooth plates are laid down in increments, like annual rings. They grow for as long as the fish grows, until in the very large lungfish (perhaps 5 feet long and weighing 50-70 pounds) tooth growth seems to stop and the dental apparatus looks worn down to below the gum line and completely useless.

These fearsome teeth are the more so because of the extensive jaw musculature which accompanies them. The shape of the head in most fishes is determined by the skull—skin covers the head bones with relatively

"No one is going to make a movie, of course, but it is time that the lungfish had its day in the sun."

A specialist in the behavior and habitats of the African Lungfish, Dr. Elizabeth Conant has researched this particular vertebrate since she first became interested in them while teaching biology at the University of Nigeria in West Africa from 1963-65.

Dr. Conant's studies have led her to view the lungfish as a link in both the structure and behavior in the evolution of higher forms of vertebrates. She is the author of numerous articles in scientific journals dealing with the African lungfish, Protopterus.

A former assistant professor at Wellesley College, Dr. Conant is presently associate professor of biology at Mary Baldwin. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she received her bachelor's degree from Connecticut College and her master's and doctorate from Radcliffe College.

little facial musculature. Lungfish, on the other hand, have a rather narrow skull and the configuration of their head is defined by massive jaw muscles in the same way that a cat's head bulges with the muscles of its face. In the illustration, the hollow space on either side of the skull is filled with powerful jaw-closing muscles. It makes for an efficient Biting Machine!

Last year, a Mary Baldwin senior, Martha Hollon Meaders, of Wichita Falls, Tex., did a supervised inquiry on lungfish teeth. It was an appropriate topic. She was a pre-dental student and is now at the Baylor University School of Dentistry. It is probably good practice to spend a year looking into lungfish jaws; no human mouth could possibly be quite so awful. Over the course of a year, she cleared 19 sets of jaws and did dozens of measurements on each one, looking for patterns of growth and wear. We found that the proportions of the interlocking jaws remain quite constant over time, that damage can be grown out but not literally repaired, and that the bite becomes more precise in larger fish. Her work was reported to the Tri Beta Society meetings in Blacksburg and to the Virginia Academy of Science and hopefully, will end up in print.

Well, what does the lungfish eat? Not whole fishermen and air tanks, to be sure, although Kenyan fishermen do take pains to keep their toes clear. Lungfish are primarily carnivorous, for analysis of stomach contents reveals the presence of snails, clams, crayfish, worms and small fish. In Senegal they are also reported to eat rice cakes, and in Lake Victoria they even eat birds! One five foot lungfish was found nearly choking on a huge Egyptian Goose it had tried to swallow.

Most fish simply gulp down their food, but lungfish actually chew theirs, drawing it in and out of the mouth while the snapping tooth plates break the fibers. Admittedly, it is quite revolting, reminiscent of some two-year-olds I know. However, it is all part of the lungfish story, a story of unique adaptations and an intriguing life-style.

But . . . if you happen to go for a midnight swim in Lake Victoria, BEWARE!!

1. Bonnie Smith, Roanoke, Va.
 2. Shirley Douglass, Dallas, Tex.
 3. Mary Ann Newbill, Roanoke, Va.
 4. Sylvia Baldwin, San Diego, Calif.
 5. Anne Vest, Wilmington, Del.
 6. Margy Jones, Roanoke, Va.
 7. Ann Munger, Wayne, Pa.
 8. Bottie Holmes, Winston-Salem, N.C.
 9. Betsy Mikell, Wilmington, Del.
 10. Barbara Marbut, Macon, Ga.
 11. Heidi Goeltz, Rockville, Md.
 12. Libby Black, Miami, Fla.
 13. Tami O'Dell, Pulaski, Va.
 14. Lois Blackburn, tennis coach
 15. Crissy Gonzalez, Bayamon, P.R.

Not shown: team manager Melissa Patrick, Staunton, Va. and

Not shown: team manager Melissa Patrick, Staunton, Va. and Eloise Clyde, Tyler, Tex.

Tennis Scores at MBC

Weather permitting and rackets in hand, members of the Mary Baldwin tennis team ascend the hill leading to the Skyline Courts to practice the skills and strategy to improve their games and keep them in the winning column.

Sixteen in number, including a manager, they represent states as far west as California and Texas and extend to countries as far south as Puerto Rico. Together they practice daily, travel approximately 1300 miles per year for dual matches and 4,000 miles for tournaments, boast a 64-7 win-loss record and still have time to be student leaders and achieve academic honors.

Coached by Mrs. John K. (Lois) Blackburn, a certified United States Professional Tennis Association member who continually strives to develop their potential as a player and an individual, the team has the benefit of a professional who has been certified as knowledgeable in all aspects of the game of tennis including teaching techniques, skills and game strategy.

Mary Baldwin College began building its reputation as a powerhouse in women's tennis some fifteen years ago during the presidency of Dr. Samuel Spencer, when Mrs. Mary Jane Donnalley was brought to the campus, as an assistant professor of physical education, specifically to build the tennis program. It was she who organized the first Middle Atlantic Lawn Tennis Association Women's Collegiate Tournament at Mary Baldwin. From 1961 through the spring of 1973, the team remained undefeated using the full varsity squad and compiled more than 100 wins. During this same period, the college produced four winners in the MALTA Women's Collegiate singles division: Cynthia Goeltz Willkomm who won in both 1963 and 1965, Nancy Falkenberg in 1964 and Mary Hotchkiss in 1973. Cynthia and Nancy also captured the MALTA Women's Collegiate doubles championship three years in succession from 1964 through 1966 and the National Women's Collegiate Doubles Championship in 1965.

Since Mrs. Blackburn came to Mary Baldwin in 1969, she has expanded the college's intercollegiate competition from two tournaments a year, the Eastern Women's Collegiates and the MALTA Women's Collegiates, to seven tournaments and 20 matches in the fall and spring, including such formidable opponents as Penn State, the University of Maryland, Florida State and the University of North Carolina.

Working on five courts, four of which are lighted, the team practices daily on the campus unless inclement weather forces them to rent time at nearby indoor courts in Charlottesville. Equipment available for player use includes a ball machine for use in stroke improvement and a video instant replay machine. Termed by Mrs. Blackburn as "one of the most exciting and successful teaching aids," the video machine is used with individual players as well as service classes as a positive technique for stroke production and improvement in all facets of the game.

Under their coach's steering, five freshmen, six sophomores, one junior and four seniors practice the gamesmanship and the sportsmanship that one-on-one competition in tennis requires. According to Mrs.

About the coach . . .

Lois Blackburn, assistant professor of physical education, is certified by the United States Professional Tennis Association. She is currently serving as vice-president for colleges and schools for MALTA. In that position, she administers a scholarship given annually by William F. Riordan. She is secretary of the Women's Collegiate Committee of the USTA and a member of the education and research committee of that organization.

Now in the process of editing a book for the USTA on conducting tennis tournaments, scheduled for publication in late 1976 or early 1977, Mrs. Blackburn was recently featured in "Tennis Life," an East Coast publication.

Serving as chairman of the Colleges and Schools division of the Virginia Tennis Association, she was appointed to serve as the MALTA representative to the National Tennis Development Program (NYDP).

This past summer, Mrs. Blackburn conducted a series of instructional tennis clinics for the Department of the Army at various military posts in Virginia.

Blackburn, until a player reaches a high level of competition, no officials are used in the matches. Play must be fair and square with individual players calling the shots. There is a high quality of sportsmanship and a consideration for an opponent in the game of tennis that is not found in other sports and these characteristics carry over into a player's personal life.

The tennis program has brought some excellent players to Mary Baldwin College. Currently, the squad has seven players who have or have had national, sectional or state ranking in tennis. These include: Heidi Goeltz, Betsy Mikell, Libby Black, Bootie Holmes, Mary Ann Newbill, Sylvia Baldwin and Crissy Gonzalez who is ranked number one in both women's

SPRING 1976 VARSITY TENNIS SCHEDULE

March 3	MBC vs. University of South Carolina	Columbia, S.C.
March 4-7	Florida State University Collegiate Invitational Tournament	Tallahassee, Fla.
March 31 2 p.m.	MBC vs. Harvard	Home Courts
April 3 9 a.m.	Old Dominion University	Home Courts
6 2 p.m.	MBC vs. Hollins	Home Courts
9 3 p.m.	MBC vs. Westhampton	Home Courts
13 2 p.m.	MBC vs. Sweet Briar	Home Courts
15-17	Virginia State Collegiate Tournament	University of Virginia
20 2 p.m.	MBC vs. Madison	Home Courts
23-25	Middle States Tournament	Princeton
28 2:30 p.m.	MBC vs. University of Maryland	Home Courts
29-May 2	MALTA Women's Collegiate Championship	Home Courts
May 12-16	Maureen Connally Brinker Seventeen Tournament of Champions (by invitation)	Washington, D. C.
27-29	Southern Regional II Championship (qualifying in Virginia State)	Chattanooga, Tenn.
June 8-13	Blue-Gray Tournament	Montgomery, Ala.
13-20	Women's National Collegiate Tournaments	Salt Lake City, Ut.

and girls 18's in Puerto Rico. In a recent poll of the varsity players conducted by Coach Blackburn, five listed the tennis program as the main reason they selected Mary Baldwin and thirteen indicated tennis was one of the three motivating forces for selecting the college.

In tournament play this fall, Mary Baldwin gained recognition with Crissy Gonzalez's win over Cindy Brinker of the University of Virginia in the finals of the Tennis Life-Garfinkel's Women's Intercollegiate Classic held in Washington, D. C. Within the same month, the Mary Baldwin team captured first place in the Salisbury State College Invitational Tournament in Salisbury, Maryland. Singles winner for the tournament was Mary Baldwin's own Crissy Gonzalez and singles runner-up was teammate Heidi Goeltz, sister of former MALTA winner, Cynthia Goeltz Willkoom '66. Doubles winners in the same tournament was Crissy and Heidi. Feed-in consolation winner was Betsy Mikell and consolation runner-up in the same division was Bootie Holmes.

Later this spring, two members of the team, Crissy Gonzalez and Heidi Goeltz, will compete in the National Tournament of Champions sponsored by Seventeen Magazine and the Maureen Connolly Brinker Tennis Foundation in Merrifield, Virginia. Invited on the basis of their tennis records, Crissy will represent Virginia and Heidi will play for Maryland in the tournament which will include 200 players, four from each of the 50 states.

The future of intercollegiate tennis on all campuses, including Mary Baldwin's, is in a state of flux as a result of Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 which is being enforced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. This act guarantees equal treatment of the sexes and prohibits discrimination in awarding scholarships, the furnishing of personnel and facilities in any physical education or athletic program.

As a result of the passage of this act, those schools giving tennis scholarships to men will be forced to give equally to women and this will mean an increase in the number of tennis scholarships available for women. Without a scholarship program for tennis players, Coach Blackburn feels that Mary Baldwin will most likely be unable to compete in recruiting players.

The impact of Title IX on women's collegiate sports is already evident with many scholarships being offered for 1976-77 to women in tennis, basketball, swimming, golf, fencing, track, volleyball and softball.

Tennis is the "in" sport today and its popularity extends beyond the college campus. The new interest in tennis nationwide is evidenced by the 75% increase in the number of participants in the women's 12-17 age group as reported in the Nielson study of tennis players. What this means to a tennis coach like Mrs. Blackburn is a greater number of good players. As she sees it, more people playing the game will raise the quality of the game and create a self-perpetuating process of competition and recognition.

Increased interest in the sport of tennis creates more demand for teaching professionals. To meet this demand and provide students with a marketable skill in a field which is currently presenting many opportunities, Mrs. Blackburn is researching the possibility of a program that would allow a student the opportunity to become a certified tennis professional through course work in economics, accounting, business management and instruction in the teaching of tennis to groups and individuals.

Judging by the popularity of the sport as shown by the team players and students alike, tennis is BIG at Mary Baldwin and the program continues to enhance the college's prominence in the academic and collegiate sports world.

new dimensions NEWS

Electron Microscope Purchased for "Hands-On" Use by Students

A Siemens Elmskop I transmission electron microscope has been purchased by the college through a donation to the New Dimensions Program by an anonymous donor who designated their gift for that purpose.

Owned previously by the Harvard Medical School, the microscope will be used as an instructional tool in microbiology, cell biology and genetics to study single cells, bacteria, and viruses and will be developed as a tool for student research and directed inquiries.

The machine is capable of magnifying biological specimens up to 1 million times their size. Mary Baldwin is the only private school in the area developing an electron microscope facility for student instruction as well as faculty research.

The college is in the process of securing additional accessories for the microscope which would allow it to be used as a classroom teaching instrument rather than solely as a tutorial tool.

Telethon Expands Campaign Efforts

In an effort to successfully complete the 1974-75 New Dimensions campaigns, a "telethon" was conducted February 8/11 from the Development Office. Twenty faculty and staff members made telephone calls across the United States to secure leadership pledges. The goal of the campaign is to raise $7.6 million by 1977. To date $3.3 million has been raised. Alumnae, parents, and friends in Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Texas were called.

Faculty Team Captains were Dr. Virginia Francisco, Dr. Joanne Ferriot, Dr. James Patrick and James Hainer, Jr. Kate (Missy) Mallonee, '74, assistant director of development, directed the Telethon.

Scholarship for Day Students Announced

Announcement of a day student scholarship which will be named in honor of outgoing president Dr. William W. Kelly was made at the recent Honors Day Convocation in February. The scholarship will carry a yearly stipend and will be awarded to a day student on the basis of need and minimum grade point average.

Funds for the scholarship have been raised by the day students through campus projects and alumnae and parent contributions have been made through the New Dimensions Program.

Examining the new electron microscope located in the Pearce Science Center are left to right: Mabel Fetterman of Clinton, N.C.; Penny Harris of Kinston, N.C.; Bonnie Gordon, an instructor of biology and EM co-ordinator; and Jane Fisher of Salisbury, Md.

Alumna Establishes Scholarship

An endowed scholarship has recently been established by Margaret Herscher Hitchman '40 of Aiken, S.C., to honor her mother, Grace Sutherland Herscher '15.

In establishing the scholarship which will ultimately be funded for a total of $50,000, Mrs. Hitchman said that no restrictions have been placed on the selection of the recipient but expressed the wish that, "... wherever possible preference should be given to the student showing the promise and ability to adapt to a changing world as has been the case with my mother."

Mrs. Hitchman's daughters are recent Mary Baldwin graduates: Eve Hitchman Morrison '74 and Grace Hitchman McGrath '70.

Commenting on the newly established scholarship, Dr. Roy K. Patteson, Jr., vice president for development remarked, "We are most grateful to Mrs. Hitchman for her loyalty and generosity in establishing this scholarship. It reflects her continuing faith in Mary Baldwin College and her estimate of the values inherent in the educational programs here."

NEW DIMENSIONS PROGRAM

Summary of Gifts By Range of Giving—January 31, 1976

Gift Range	Campaign Goal $7.6 Million		Gifts/Pledges Received
	Gifts/Pledges Required Number	Amount	Number	Amount
$1,000,000 up	1-2	2,000,000.00	1	1,000,000.00
$100,000-999,999	10-15	2,000,000.00	3	600,000.00
$10,000-99,999	90-120	1,800,000.00	42	1,290,118.49
$1,000-9,999	350-500	1,000,000.00	115	267,812.18
Under $1,000	all others	800,000.00	986	149,743.62
Totals		7,600,000.00	1147	3,307,674.29

Summary of Gifts By Purpose—January 31, 1976

Purpose	Campaign Goal $7.6 Million		Gifts/Pledges To Date
	Gifts/Pledges Required	Amount Pledged	Number	Amount Paid
Endowment for Teaching	3,750,000.00	909,060.00	15	518,344.42
Endowment for Student Aid	1,000,000.00	303,264.59	55	213,376.05
Endowment for the Library	750,000.00	9,277.50	15	8,430.50
General Endowment	1,000,000.00	280,682.85	24	198,539.46
Current Use Funds	500,000.00	357,304.33	18	266,584.33
Undesignated		981,919.67	953	714,224.14
Wenger Hall	600,000.00	466,165.35	78	446,565.35
Total Pledges	7,600,000.00	3,307,674.29	1158	2,366,064.25

Summary of Gifts By Source—January 31, 1976

Source	Cumulative to Date
	Number	Total Pledged
Alumnae	711	1,753,397.78
Non-Alumnae	344	599,791.15
Corporations	69	176,992.50
Foundations	8	754,401.36
Other	8	23,091.50
Totals	1140	3,307,674.29
Trustees*	65	1,401,400.96
Parents*	259	112,425.73

*Included in alumnae or non-alumnae amounts above

Advisory Board of Visitors

The Mary Baldwin College Board of Visitors was established in 1973 to provide a broader base of leadership and advice for the Administration and the Board of Trustees.

Meeting twice a year on the campus, the Advisory Board has reinforced the philosophy of a liberal arts college and has suggested and initiated new and progressive programs.

Wayne W. Anderson is director of the Trustee Leadership Program for the Association of Governing Boards located in Washington, D.C.

Prior to his current appointment, he was executive and special assistant to the president at Johns Hopkins University for nine years. Other career appointments have been assistant to the president for the Association of American Colleges, and an administrative intern with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

In collaboration with others, Dr. Anderson authored University-Wide Planning For the Minority Student in addition to articles in School and Society journal and other organizational newsletters and newspapers.

Dr. Anderson holds a B.A. from the University of Minnesota, an M.P.A. from Princeton, and a Ph.D. in political science from Georgetown University.

Dr. Anderson and his wife, Anne (MBC '59), are the parents of two daughters.

William H. Brewster has been vice president of American Can Company since 1973. He is director of the American Can Company Foundation and a member of the corporation's Labor Policy Committee and Pension and Annuity Board.

Prior to joining American Can, he served as secretary-treasurer, general counsel for International Police Services, Inc. of Washington, D.C.

While working for the federal government, he received the Distinguished Service Award for his work in reorganizing the Office of General Counsel.

Mr. Brewster, also a member of the Advisory Board of Visitors of Sacred Heart University, attended DePaul University and Kent College of Law in Chicago.

He and his wife Nancy have seven children and reside in Fairfield, Ct.

Margaret A. Barrier is assistant professor of sociology and acting director of the social work program at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

A 1950 graduate of Mary Baldwin, she continued her education at U.N.C., Chapel Hill, Columbia University, and the University of California at Berkeley.

Her other teaching positions have included posts at Western College for Women in Oxford,

One of the most important accomplishments to the Board's credit has been an increased emphasis on career development. A course on career development was implemented during the 1974-75 academic year, funded totally by the members of the Advisory Board.

The diversity of their knowledge and their loyalty to Mary Baldwin College combine to enhance the fine leadership provided by the Board of Trustees.

and Salem College in Winston-Salem, N.C.

A regular reviewer for Choice, a monthly publication of the Association of College and Research Libraries, she has been cited in such publications as International Scholars Directory, American Men of Science: The Social and Behavioral Sciences, and Who's Who in the Midwest. She is also listed in Who's Who of American Women, Dictionary of International Biography, and North Carolina Lives.

Burdick H. Brittin, of Great Falls, Va., is employed by the State Department as an international law consultant.

His primary interest is in the area of international negotiations concerning the use of oceans. As a result of his interest, he has lectured extensively and is the author of a textbook and various articles on international law.

He received his A.B. degree from Union College and a Juris Doctor degree from George Washington University Law School.

A member of the American Society of International Law and the Marine Technological Society, he also is on the board of directors of the Great Falls Citizen's Association.

He and his wife, Trudy have three children.

Mayo Cabell, a resident of Staunton for 35 years, is president of Cabell Insurance Associates, Inc., a general insurance agency with offices in Staunton and Charlottesville, Va.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Columbia College, he is married to the former Diana Rede, Mary Baldwin class of 1956. The Cabell's have five children.

Janet White Campbell, MBC '66, has been employed as an engineer at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley Research Center in Hampton, Va. since 1967.

Dr. Campbell received her master's degree from Vanderbilt University and her doctorate from V.P.I. and State University in Blacksburg, Va.

She has served as a member of the MBC Alumnae Board of Directors and has sponsored a faculty member and several students engaged in research at Langley during the January term.

She is currently a member of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics. At Langley, she is a member of the Federal Women's Program Advisory Board, the Review Committee for University Research Proposals and the Undergraduate Studies Committee.

She and her husband James have one daughter.

Charles Collis is executive vice-president of Fairchild Industries in Germantown, Md.

He has been involved in engineering, development, and the manufacture and management of aerospace systems for 30 years, having joined the firm in 1946.

During his tenure as general manager and vice president of Fairchild Republic from 1963 to 1968, he directed that division's successful effort in the contract definition phase of the U.S./Federal Republic of Germany V-STOL tactical fighter program.

Mr. Collis is a 1942 graduate of Brown University with a B.S. in mechanical engineering.

He is currently vice-chairman of the MBC Advisory Board.

His daughter Jane graduated from Mary Baldwin in 1969. Mr. Collis and his wife Margaret have two children.

Jean McArthur Davis, an alumna of Mary Baldwin and a graduate of Duke University, is president of the McArthur Jersey Farm Dairy, Inc. in Miami, Fla.

She has assisted in many alumnae activities in Miami, serving as area chairman for the New Dimensions Campaign.

Serving as a board member for two banks, Mrs. Davis is also a member of the Board of the Metropolitan Museum and Art Center, and the American Red Cross. She is a member of the Board of Governors of the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, and a trustee of the University of Miami.

She and her husband, James, are the parents of four children.

Anne Ponder Dickson, a 1961 graduate of MBC, has served on both the Alumnae Board of Directors and as president of the Dallas Alumnae Chapter.

Active in the community, she is vice president of the League of Women Voters and a member of the Board of Directors for the West Dallas Community Centers.

She is a director of the League for Educational Advancement and a member of the Community Committee for a Smooth Transition, which was formed following the court desegregation order.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickson have two children.

Dennis B. Draper is president and chairman of the board of the Clifton-Forge-Waynesboro Telephone Company in Staunton. He previously served as plant supervisor, company secretary, vice-president and general manager, having joined the company in 1941.

He currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the U.S. Independent Telephone Association. He also is active in the Virginia Independent Telephone Association.

and previously served as president of that organization.

Chairman of the Staunton Planning Commission, Mr. Draper is also on the board of directors of the United Virginia Bank/National Valley and the Staunton Rotary Club.

Mr. Draper is the father of two children.

Nancy Mayer Dunbar, an alumna of MBC, holds A.B. degrees in history and secondary education, and a master's degree in secondary education from the University of South Carolina.

She formerly taught school in California, Virginia and South Carolina, and engaged in library work at the school of nursing at the University of Virginia.

Currently she serves as vice-president of the Junior League of Columbia. Other community involvements include: Planned Parenthood of Central South Carolina, the Columbia Garden Club, and Heathwood Hall Episcopal School Guild.

Mrs. Dunbar and her husband James have two children.

Genevieve Benckenstein Elder, MBC '41, resides in Staunton. A native Texan from Beaumont, she was also educated at the University of Texas.

Mrs. Elder is a communicant of Trinity Episcopal Church and is active in the Altar Guild and the Women of the Church. Her other memberships include Colonial Dames, Garden Club of America, Garden Club of Virginia, Augusta Garden Club, Florence Nightingale Auxiliary and Pi Beta Phi.

She is married to Fitzugh Elder, a Staunton lawyer and banker, and they have two children and four grandchildren.

Betty Berger Fulgham, MBC '51, and her husband Rawls, have four children. A daughter, Emily Ann, attended Mary Baldwin.

Mrs. Fulgham, of Dallas, is a member of the Junior League, the Banker's Wives, and is chairman of the Great Commission Prayer Crusade.

Participating actively in church affairs, she is a bible study leader, a Sunday School teacher and chairman of the Youth for World Mission Week.

Helen King Groves is owner and president of Silver Brook Farms in Middlebrook, Va. A native of Texas, she attended Vassar College.

The mother of six children, she is active in fund-raising activities, and the cattle and horse business.

She is a member of the board of directors of King Ranch, Inc., Howard Flory Institute for Medical Research, the Robert J. & Helen C. Kleberg Foundation, the A.G.K. Foundation, the Staunton-Augusta Chamber of Commerce, and the Marketing Committee of Saint Gertrudis International.

Benjamin F. Huntley practices medicine in Winston-Salem, N.C.

He and his wife, Carolyn, are the parents of two daughters, Joy and Margaret, who are MBC alumnae.

Donald S. Jones is president of the Industrial Group of The Bendix Corporation in Southfield, Michigan. Joining the corporation in 1946, he was elected vice-president in 1966 after being a member of the Industrial Relations Department, Personnel Administrator, Director of Industrial Relations, General Manager and Group Manager.

He was named Group Executive in 1969 in the Aerospace-Electronics Group and was assigned to the Industrial Group as Vice President and Group Executive in June, 1971. He became President of the Group in August, 1972.

Larie, his daughter, is a 1975 graduate of MBC. Mr. Jones and his wife Suzanne are the parents of two children.

Eugene F. Murphy, a specialist in prosthetic and sensory aids and rehabilitative engineering, is Director of the Research Center for Prosthetics in New York City.

He has published numerous professional papers and editorials in a variety of journals and authored chapters in Human Limbs and Their Substitutes. In the forthcoming Atlas of Orthopaedic Appliances, he wrote Vol. I and II entitled Orthopaedic Appliances. Other publications have included Biomedical Engineering Systems; Selected Articles from Artificial Limbs; CRS Critical Review in Bioengineering; and CRC Handbook of Materials, Vol. III.

A member of numerous professional societies, Dr. Murphy was recently appointed a member of the National Academy of Sciences.

Educated at Cornell and Syracuse, he holds a doctorate from the Illinois Institute of Technology.

He and his wife Helene are the parents of two children.

Wendy Coleman LeGardeur, MBC '61, lives in Metairie, La. and is currently working on the "Bal des Petits Lits Blancs" which will be held in New Orleans in May.

Active in alumnae affairs, she has served as class agent for the Mary Baldwin Annual Fund.

She is executive vice-president of the William B. Coleman Corporation.

She and her husband, Armand, have two children.

Betty Southard Murphy is chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, the first woman to serve on that board. Prior to her appointment to the NLRB by President Ford in January, 1975, she was Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor. She was elected chairman of the MBC Advisory Board of Visitors at its inception in 1973.

She began her career as a journalist, and later became a labor lawyer. Formerly associated with the Washington, D. C. law firm of Wilson, Woods and Villalon, she represented both international unions and employers.

Mrs. Murphy was educated at Ohio State University and American University, where she is a trustee. In addition, she serves on the National Board of the Medical College of Virginia.

She and her husband, Dr. Cornelius Murphy reside in Annandale, Va. with their two children.

Charlotte Jackson Lunsford, of Asheville, N.C., majored in psychology at Mary Baldwin and graduated in 1951. She has worked as a social worker and presently is involved in many social work programs.

Some of her many responsibilities in this area include: chairman of the Drug and Alcohol Abuse Advisory Commission, a member of the board of directors for the Volunteer Service Bureau and the United Way, vice-chairman of the American National Red Cross, and a member of the board of directors of Meals on Wheels.

A former national president of the Mary Baldwin Alumnae Association, Mrs. Lunsford is on the Board of Visitors at Western Carolina University and is the only woman on the Wachovia Bank board.

She is married to Dr. Lewis Lunsford and they have two children.

John B. Parrish, is professor of economics at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

A noted economist, his experience has included employment with the U. S. Department of Labor, the National War Labor Board, the War Manpower Commission, and teaching positions at Southern Illinois University and St. Louis University.

Dr. Parrish was co-chairman of the third annual conference on "Careers for Women in Engineering," and has published numerous articles on this subject and other facets of economics. He is the co-author of The Labor Problems of American Society.

A recipient of bachelor and doctorate degrees from the University of Illinois, Dr. Parrish is cited in American Men and Women of Science, Who's Who in Education, and Dictionary of International Biography, among others.

He and his wife Anne, MBC '37, have two children. His daughter, Adrienne, is a 1970 graduate of MBC.

G. Spruce McCain of Columbia, S.C., is a CLU for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. In this capacity, he has been selected "Penn Mutual Man of the Year in South Carolina" for four years.

A graduate of the University of South Carolina in business administration, he is also a member of the Advisory Council of Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary in Columbia.

He and his wife Ann, an alumna of MBC, have three children. Their daughter, Kathy, is a junior at Mary Baldwin and was recently elected president of the student government association.

Ann Dial McMillan, of Alabama, MBC '63 is vice president and director of the women's department of Birmingham Trust National Bank.

She is presently serving as a director of the Birmingham Festival of Arts, the Birmingham Music Club, the Women's Committee of the Birmingham Symphony, and Planned Parenthood and Positive Maturity.

She has offices or board memberships in the Junior League, the Women's Auxiliary, the Birmingham Bar Association, and the Urban League Guild, and has been vice president of Annual Giving at MBC.

Her husband, George, is a member of the Alabama Senate and they have one son.

Sumpter T. Priddy, Jr. is president of the Virginia Retail Merchants Association in Richmond, which represents over 8,000 retail and service stores in Virginia.

He is a former state president and national vice president in the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He served on the Virginia Department of Education's Advisory Committee on Economic Education and the Governor's Study Commission for Vocational Rehabilitation. Mr. Priddy is a member of the Board of Trustees of Hanover Academy.

Mr. Priddy and his wife, Rosalie, have five children.

Mary Opie Robinson, MBC '35 and a native of Staunton, is a former president of the MBC Alumnae Association.

A journalist, Mrs. Robinson was woman's editor of The Staunton Leader, and is currently secretary of the publishing corporation. In addition, she was curator of the Wilton Museum in Richmond.

Her honors include the Emily Smith Medallion, for distinguished alumnae work, and a listing in Who's Who of American Women.

A member of the National Society of Colonial Dames, she has served on the board of the Junior League, is a former vice president of the Virginia Association for Mental Health, and is presently a member of the Virginia Museum Council and the Richmond Symphony.

Mrs. Robinson has one daughter.

Mary Ann Jones Rogers, MBC '42, lives in Cocoa, Fla. with her husband, Dr. Lee Rogers, Jr., a surgeon. She holds a master's degree in Social Work from Tulane University, and recently has worked as a part-time instructor at Brevard Community College in early childhood development and parent education.

Active in church and health affairs, she is currently serving as the first woman elder of her church and is the state president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Florida Medical Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Rogers have one daughter, the Rev. Cally Rogers-Witte, an ordained minister in the United Church of Christ, and a 1967 graduate of Mary Baldwin.

Emily Dethloff Ryan, MBC '63, is from Houston, Tex. A history and French major, she also attended Hunter College.

During her career, she has been a cataloguer for the Cooper Kirby Ragan Library, secretary for the Continental and Gulf Oil Companies, and assistant editor of the Journal of Southern History.

Mrs. Ryan has been chairman of the city-wide screening program for pre-school children, is a member of the Junior League, and the Museum of Fine Arts. She has participated in many activities of the Houston Alumnae Chapter. She and her husband, Tom, have two children.

Martha Godwin Saunders, MBC '48, lives in Suffolk, Va. with her husband Curtis and their two children.

Her contributions to the MBC alumnae association include being president, a class agent and a member of several committees. She also served as a team captain for the New Dimensions Campaign.

In the community Mrs. Saunders is interested in church, library, and hospital work, and is a member of the garden club.

Nancy McDowell Smathers, MBC '71, attended Princeton Theological Seminary to work on a master's degree in divinity, and she is presently attending Florida State University to further her studies.

A former instructor of bible history, her interests range from art and music to the changing roles of women in the church.

In Tallahassee she serves on the board of directors for the Junior Museum and the United Way. She is an honorary representative for the Volunteer Action Committee and serves on the state's Religious Heritage Committee. She is currently membership chairman for the MacArthur Resource Center for American Theatre.

She and her husband, Secretary of State Bruce Smathers, have one son.

Caroline Hunt Schoellkopf, an alumna of Mary Baldwin, received her bachelor's degree from the University of Texas.

Active in civic, church, and alumnae affairs, Mrs. Schoellkopf is a member of the Junior League of Dallas, and is a board member of Planned Parenthood, the Child Guidance Clinic, and the West Dallas Community Centers. She is a member of the advisory council of Thanksgiving Square, the only international shrine dedicated to Thanksgiving.

In addition, she is active in her church, serving as a deacon, teacher, and chairman of the early childhood division. She is also a member of the council and the budget and finance committee.

A resident of Dallas, she and her husband Hugo have four children.

Tia Nolan Tattersall from Alexandria, La., MBC '69, is presently working towards a master's degree in social work. One involvement related to her studies includes active participation in several political campaigns, including support for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment in Louisiana.

Currently serving on the Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors, she is also on the Board of Visitors of the Southeast Institute. She is secretary of the MBC Advisory Board of Visitors.

A former member of the school board and chairman of the Friends of the Library, Mrs. Tattersall is actively working with a drug education team.

She has two children.

R. Dawson Taylor, of Virginia Beach, is president of True Value Home Centers. He has served as president and member of the board of the Hardware Association of the Virginias.

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, Mr. Taylor is active in church and civic affairs. Treasurer of the General Hospital of Virginia Beach and a former member of the Tidewater Rehabilitation Center, he is a vestry member of his church.

Mr. Taylor and his wife, Ann, are the parents of four children. A daughter, Catherine Buff, is a member of the class of 1977 at MBC.

Charles H. Zeanah is director of corporate public relations with the Ethyl Corporation in Richmond, Va.

He has been associated with Ethyl for 24 years, initially serving in a free lance capacity in broadcasting the L.S.U. football games.

He is a graduate of the University of Alabama in radio broadcasting and attended the Public Relations Institute at Harvard University.

An accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America (PRSA), Mr. Zeanah is immediate past president of the Old Dominion Chapter of PRSA and is presently chairman of the organization's Mid-Atlantic District.

His board memberships include the Metropolitan Richmond Chamber of Commerce and the Federated Arts Council, among other activities.

He has two children. Sarah Hunter, his daughter, is a sophomore at Mary Baldwin.

Advisory Board of Visitors

(photographs not available)

Mimi Von Glaub Bonstelle, MBC '64, devotes most of her time to teaching the third grade in a private school in Jacksonville, Fla. In this capacity, she also serves as assistant to the lower division encompassing the first through the sixth grades.

A graduate of Jacksonville University with a master's degree in elementary education, Mrs. Bonstelle served as first grade teacher in the Jacksonville public schools for eight years.

A Junior League member, her interests range from assisting fund drives to museum work, especially in the area of children's museums. An antique collector, along with her husband George, she has been a part of the Decorator Showhouse. She is, in addition, a member of the Symphony Association.

Martha Kline Chaplin, MBC '51, resides in McLean, Va. with her husband Harvey and two children.

She continued her graduate education at the University of Virginia and has done substitute teaching periodically.

Active in politics, Mrs. Chaplin has been a member of the Republican Woman's Club. In church life, she has served as a vestry member, chairman of the parish life committee, been a member of the diocesan committee, and is serving as recording secretary for the Episcopal Church Home Board.

Judson Freeman is associated with the law firm of Freeman, Richardson, Watson, Slade, McCarthy and Kelly in Jacksonville, Fla.

Judson and Anne Freeman have two children. Their daughter, Leslie, is a 1970 graduate of MBC.

Mabs Smith Hicks, MBC '68, was a former school teacher in the Charlotte, N.C. area before she and her husband, Richard, moved to Greensboro recently. In this capacity she developed and set up a college advising program.

An English major at MBC, she was an admissions counselor for four years.

In Charlotte, she participated in many civic activities including the board of the Guild of the Charlotte Nature Museum, the garden club and book club, and the auxiliary of the local hospital.

In church activities, Mrs. Hicks has served as the treasurer of the women's association, a member of the Altar Guild and the Thrift Shop committee, and a member of the Hot Lunch Committee for the Elderly.

Ann Morgan Lanier, of West Point, Ga., is a 1954 graduate of MBC. She has served on the board of directors of the National Alumnae Association and as a class agent.

In civic service she has been active in the American Red Cross.

She and her husband, Joseph, have two children.

Martha Gray Lund, a 1934 graduate of MBC, lives in Richmond, Va. An avid artist, she experiments in both watercolors and oils, having taken lessons in Ohio and Cambridge, England.

Her contributions to the community have included red cross volunteer work, serving as a committee chairman in her church, and being a library assistant for the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Lund has previously worked as a research analyst in tax work and as a secretary-bookkeeper. She has one daughter.

J. Warren White, Jr., a member of the Virginia House of Delegates from Norfolk, is president and treasurer of Old Dominion Paper Company. He also serves as director of Dillard Paper Company in Greensboro, N.C.

A graduate of Washington and Lee University, he is assistant majority leader of the House of Delegates in the Virginia legislature.

His board memberships: The United Communities Fund, the Edgewater Turney Home for Boys and Girls, the Tidewater Cancer Society, the Norfolk General Hospital, the Virginia National Bank, and the Virginia College Fund.

He and Mrs. White have four children. Their daughter, Emily, is a 1975 graduate of MBC.

Schedule for Alumnae Homecoming: April 30—May 1

FRIDAY, APRIL 30

1:00-8:00 p.m.	REGISTRATION	Alumnae House
2:30 p.m.	MEETING OF THE ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS	Alumnae House
6:00 p.m.	"WELCOME" PARTY	Alumnae House
7:00 p.m.	PICNIC BOX SUPPERS FOR REUNION CLASSES, ETA BETAS, NON-REUNION ALUMNAE	Round the Campus Locations

SATURDAY, MAY 1

9:00-6:00 p.m.	REGISTRATION	Alumnae House
9:00 a.m.	COFFEE	Lounge, Hunt Hall
9:45 a.m.	ALUMNAE CONVOCATION	Lounge, Hunt Hall
11:00 a.m.	DEDICATION OF WENGER HALL Featuring a Bicentennial Address by The Honorable Andrew P. Miller, Attorney General of Virginia	Wenger Hall
1:00 p.m.	LUNCHEON FOR ALUMNAE AND DISTINGUISHED GUESTS Recognition of Reunion Classes and Eta Betas Presentation of the Emily Smith Medallion	Hunt Hall

EVERYONE IS INVITED—CLIP AND MAIL BEFORE APRIL 23

To: Alumnae Office, Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia 24401

I want to make the following reservations for Alumnae Homecoming:

Name _____

Student Name _____ Class _____

Address _____

City, State, Zip Code _____

I am a former Eta Beta (years) _____

I will be accompanied by my husband _____; my daughter _____.
(Please state their names below. Give school year of daughter.)

Schedule for Alumnae Homecoming:
April 30—May 1

2:00 p.m.	AFTERNOON ACTIVITIES—YOUR CHOICE Watch the finals of the MALTA women's collegiate tennis championships Tour the Mary Baldwin Greenhouse Visit the Art Gallery and Studio to view student work	Skyline Courts Pearce Science Center First Floor, Library
6:00 p.m.	COCKTAIL BUFFET WITH THE FACULTY	Hunt Hall
8:30 p.m.	CONCERT BY THE CHOIR OF MARY BALDWIN COLLEGE	Francis Auditorium

SUNDAY, MAY 2

9:00-9:30 a.m.	BREAKFAST	Hunt Hall
----------------	-----------	-----------

REUNIONS are scheduled for the classes of 1926, 1931, 1936, 1941, 1946, 1951, 1956, 1961, 1966, 1971, 1975

HUSBANDS ARE WELCOME at all events and a special program will be available to daughters of alumnae who are high school juniors.

ACCOMMODATIONS are available two blocks from the campus. Contact the Holiday Inn, Downtown, for reservations in the Mary Baldwin reserved section (held until April 16), specifying that you are an alumna. For a list of other area motels, write the Alumnae Office.

GARDEN WEEK IN VIRGINIA will be in progress and several Staunton homes will be open during the weekend of April 30-May 1.

Indicate the number of reservations needed for each event. For instance, write "1" for you, "2" if accompanied by husband, "3" if by husband and daughter.

Welcome Party and Picnic Supper, Friday, April 30. $5.00

Alumnae Luncheon in Hunt Hall, Saturday, May 1. $5.00

Cocktail Buffet, Saturday, May 1. $8.50

Breakfast, Sunday, May 2. $1.50

My check for $_____ is enclosed. _____ I will pay on arrival.

News from the Classes

1916

FRANCES JULIAN Hine, Winston-Salem, N.C.: "I have a son who is a lawyer in San Antonio, Texas; a daughter in Reston, Va., whose special interest is city planning; and the October issue of Modern Maturity carried one of my brief poems. We enjoy an active MBC alumnae group in Winston-Salem."

1921

DOROTHY GEORGE Miller, Silver Spring, Md.: "We have a four-month-old grandson and a three-month-old granddaughter."

1926

50th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

1929

HELEN MORRISON Booker, Waynesboro, Va.: "News of the Class of 1929 seems scarce. Wish more would write of their doings. Jack and I are doing fine. He enjoys retirement -- though he loved his years at DuPont."

1930

MARY DOSWELL Abell, Falls Church, Va.: "My daughter, Carol Margaret, an alumna of Mary Washington College and Lehigh University, was married last May to Allen Frederick Branninger. They live in McLean, Va."

1931

45th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

JANE GRIFFIN Dix, Princeton, N.J.: "My husband retired last year and we are busier than ever. We went to Japan, Hawaii, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, and Egypt last year. A new grandson brought the total up to four grandchildren. What a pleasure!"

1932

ALENE BREWSTER Larner, Blacksburg, Va.: "I have a grandson, Thomas H. Larner, born last May in Mudgee, Australia - our first grandchild. His parents make their home in Australia."

JOSEPHINE HUTCHESON Magnifico, Farmville, Va.: "I plan to retire in June of this year."

1936

40th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

JANIE STEVENS Brown, Winchester, Ky.: "My husband is retiring from the active ministry. We bought a home and are looking forward to the freedom to travel and visit our three daughters and four grandchildren."

SUSAN HARRIS Hamilton, Charlottesville, Va.: "My husband, Frank, died December 6, 1975, so my news is all sad this time. However, I am looking forward to our class reunion May 1."

MARY ELIZABETH GARDNER Glen, Chambersburg, Pa.: "My children are grown and gone. My husband is president of the Franklin County Bar Association. I keep busy with volunteer service and golf in summer. We both have enjoyed traveling to far-away places."

1939

NINA GRIFFITH O'Malley, San Diego, Calif.: "Our daughter has accepted a six months job in the geology department at the University of Alaska -- which might give us an excuse to make a trip up that way."

MARGARET WALLACE SHIELDS Boyer, Woodstock, Va.: "My son, George, married Barbara Brunner in Lancaster, Pa., in August. They live in Pittsburgh where he is a staff accountant with Ernst and Ernst Accounting Firm

1941

35th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

CECIL BREWER Fish, Albuquerque, N. Mex.: "I recently gave up my job as a school principal and am now the Executive Director for the National Conference of Christians and Jews in this area."

ANNE ADAMS Van Pelt, Charlotte, N.C.: "Still living in Charlotte. Still playing lots of tennis and have also taken up skiing and love it -- I ski mainly at Sugar Mountain, N.C. Oldest son married in 1975, #2 son is working in Georgia, and #3 son is now 14 and is a real joy in our 'old age'."

ANNA GALE GREENLAND Dortch, Indianapolis, Ind.: "Son, Wally, is a senior at Indiana University; son, David, is a junior at Wabash College; Mother is bright at 91. I had an ocular enucleation last year. I plan a trip to the Holy Land in 1976."

MARIE ULMER Wolfe, Columbia, S.C.: "After 24 years of college (undergraduate and graduate) we have a freshman at Mary Baldwin. Susan thinks it is a great place. George finished at W&L, worked in Australia and New Zealand for a year and is now a second year law student at the University of Pennsylvania. Another daughter, Judy, is getting married in May, so it looks like I will have to miss the 35th reunion. Had been looking forward to it. Son, Dana, is a junior in high school, so we still have a few years of college to go."

1942

ELEANOR JAMISON Noblin, Roanoke, Va.: "Last June ELIZABETH WHITE Willard and HANNAH CAMPBELL Boatwright were in Roanoke for a wedding -- we had such a good time talking we almost forgot to look at the bride! Have recently joined AAUW and enjoyed helping with their annual art show."

1943

ADA BUTLER Arthur, Haddam, Conn.: "My husband died on October 9, 1975. I am still living in Haddam and work here at Wesleyan. I'd welcome any news from my old classmates who might like to renew old friendships."

1944

GRACE DRYDEN Venable, Towson, Md.: "I have three married sons and a daughter practicing law in D.C. First son is a minister in Big Lick, Tenn., second son is an architect in city planning in Charlottesville, Va., and my third son is a chemist in Cincinnati."

1945

JANE 'Scottie' SCOTT Wilson, Richmond, Va.: "I now have four children -- having lost one of the twins through that awful conflict in Vietnam. At the present time, I have only Martha, 17, and Peter, 16, at home...although Judy, 28, and Christopher, 24, are still here in Richmond for the present time. Judy and her husband are planning to move to Arizona for a year in January and are taking their two adorable daughters with them. David is to be a consultant for the Medicaid Program that is being set up in Arizona. We all hate to see them go, but hopefully it will not be a permanent move."

Chris and his wife, Barbara, have a darling two-year-old, Mary Katherine, and live not far from us. Mother has reached the grand old age of 84 and is as active as she can be. She lives with me and we could not have done without her guidance and help these many years when I have had to work and leave the 'young ones' at home. Peter will graduate in summer school next summer and will take post-graduate courses in architecture here in Richmond before going to college. Martha will graduate in June 1977. It is hard for me to realize that I graduated from MBC so-o-o many years ago and that I am a grandmother three times over, but it is so wonderful... I heartily recommend it to anyone."

1946

30th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

PEGGY DAVIS Evans, Weston, Mass.: "Bob resigned as Dean of the Rockford School of Medicine to become a Sloan Fellow at M.I.T. for a year -- a fabulous experience for both of us. He is now beginning to look for a new position -- probably in medical education."

CHARLOTTE TILLEY Sorrell, Durham, N.C.: "Daughter, Carlene, graduates from MBC May '76. Daughter, Carol Anne, graduated from MBC in '71. Carol Anne lives in Lubbock, Texas, and has a year old daughter, Robin, who has already visited the MBC campus."

ALICE PARSON Paine, Salem, Va.: "Granddaughter, Caroline Alice Brady, born July 12, 1975. (Mother is EMILY PAINE Brady '71.) My son is with the Hospital Corporation of America as management systems coordinator in Reijadh-Saudi Arabia. I still do volunteer work at the veterans hospital and play tennis."

JANE DARDEN Britt, Mt. Airy, N.C.: "We have two out of four children married and two still in college. Our first grandchild arrived last April and she is a real love. 'SAM' MILLER Osborne and Bob came here with their cute daughter last summer."

CONNIE ADAIR Green, Bristol, Tenn.: "My family can soon staff a clinic. Eldest son, Tommy, will return to Bristol in the fall to practice internal medicine with Tom and his brother. Next son, John, is in residency training in Richmond and Douglass is in first year medical school. Connie (CONNIE GREEN Roy '68) is married to a doctor who is taking residency training in Philadelphia. She has a daughter, Katharine, 2, and Ray is doing his residency in anesthesiology. We will have another wedding in July when daughter Peggy marries. Three to go -- one a daughter at Davidson, one son left at home."

ELSIE WATERS Ellington, Georgetown, S.C.: "I am taking interior decoration course in Charleston which I enjoy. My 12-year-old daughter keeps me on the go with the 'horse show circuit'. She has won a number of ribbons and trophies. My 8-year-old son is preparing for the baseball season."

ELOUISE CUTHBERT Stovall, Suffolk, Va.: "I still live in Suffolk. My husband practices law. Our son, John, is a senior in high school, and has been accepted by the College of William and Mary for next year."

1948

ANN LUCAS Hite, Forest, Va.: "In December, 1975, Jim and I had a terrific two weeks in Mexico with son, Bill, who had been there for five months. Older son is in graduate school at U. Va. I am enjoying studying Spanish at Randolph-Macon."

1949

SHIRLEY SUNDERMAN Kostik, Arlington, Va.: "My youngest child and only daughter is a freshman at Williams College and loves it. I am singing with the Paul Hill Chorale in Washington. It was on public television for an hour's program during the holidays. This program will be distributed nationally in the spring."

1950

EMMA MARTIN Hubbard, Richmond, Va.: "E.O., Sally, and I plan to join my sister, Elsie, and her husband for a vacation in Hawaii during Sally's spring vacation. (She is in the 9th grade at Collegiate School.)"

1951

25th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

BETTY STALL Mullikin, Clinton, S.C.: "Moved to Clinton in June '75, where husband, Gene, is minister of the Methodist Church. Children: Leigh, 16, and Hayne, 15. Have seen KENT WYSOR Ivey '50 and VERA CANNADY Lupo '49 since moving here."

PATSY WILSON Hitch, Tyler, Texas: "Dooley has taken a job with Covenant Presbytery and travels from Texarkana to Waco. Chris is a junior in high school and Richard is an 8th grader. Both play football; one at center and the other a tackle. I am involved with our Vietnamese family."

JACQUELINE McCLENNEY Hamilton, Pittsburgh, Pa.: "We don't think we'll be at the reunion. Dick works for a Swedish company and we plan to go to Sweden in May. We're staying busy in Pittsburgh."

MARILYN WALSETH Gano, Wilmington, Del.: "Our son, Rob, is a senior at West Virginia University. Rick is a sophomore at the University of Delaware; Jim graduates from high school in June; John is in the 8th grade."

JEAN KYLE Hedges, Arlington, Va.: "My two older boys are in college now; Kyle at William and Mary and Blair at George Mason University. My daughter, Susan, is a sophomore in high school and Hampton is an 8th grader."

OIDA CALDWELL Davis, Charleston, W. Va.: "Had a wonderful visit with STACIE CAUL Nicholson last summer at their home in Austin, Texas. At present I am president of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese of West Virginia and was elected lay deputy to the general convention of the Episcopal Church this coming September in Minneapolis."

LILIAN BEDINGER Taylor, Nanjemoy, Md.: "I am doing home tutoring and it has its moments of challenge, leaving some time free for other commitments. Arnold is fully involved with Durham Episcopal Church as rector. It is an authentic Bicentennial Landmark (1692) -- George Washington worshipped here! Alice (19) is a freshman at Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania. Laura (17) graduates from high school in June and Tom (14) enters high school in the fall. Everybody is BUSY!"

EILEEN GREGORY Salasky, Virginia Beach, Va.: "Busy spring -- returning from Europe on the 23rd and on to the reunion weekend of the 30th accompanied by my husband. Daughter, Alison, is a sophomore at Converse College in South Carolina."

1952

ANN BROWN Peacock, Albany, Ga.: "In August, 1975, I received my M.Ed. in Guidance and Counseling from Valdosta State College."

ALICE BALL Watts, Dallas, Texas: "George is vice president of a bank in San Antonio and comes to Dallas every weekend until we sell this house and are able to join him. I am a bilingual first grade teacher in a Dallas inner city school. It is very hard work."

1954

LEE PIERCE Moss, Springfield, Va.: "Husband, David, was appointed Fiscal Assistant Secretary of the Treasury

(U.S.) last July. Recently I landed a job as an editor and proofreader for Literary Research Corp. of Centreville, Virginia."

1956

20th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

PATTY PARKE Schneider, Southport, Conn.: "Tom is a junior at Choate School and is on the dean's list."

ANN RITCHIE Robertson, Augusta, Ga.: "I am teaching art at Episcopal Day School -- and love it! I am also serving as president of the auxiliary to the county medical society. Alex (16) is a fifth former at Woodberry Forest School in Orange, Virginia; daughter, Ritchie (13) and son Wesley (11) are busy at home. Husband, Alex, is chairman of the Department of Pediatrics at the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta."

NANCY PAYNE Dahl, Staunton, Va.: "I received a master's degree in reading from U. Va. last summer. I am presently teaching remedial reading in Staunton. My daughter is a freshman at William and Mary. I have two sons ages 8 and 12. Husband owns Triangle Realtors, Builders, and Appraisal Services."

NANCY BUSTON Downs, Clifton Forge, Va.: "Children: Lynda, 17; Becky, 15; Jennie, 13; Gene, Jr., 11. Husband, Gene, and I are busy with church and community activities."

BARBARA HUNTER Stone, Summit, N. J.: "Mother of four boys. Work part-time in an antique shop. Interests: antiques, cooking (particularly Chinese and Greek), traveling, and 'Larks', a Junior League group which troops to the nursing homes, hospitals, and Day Care Centers to sing once a week."

MARGARET BEALE Walter, Virginia Beach, Va.: "George and I had a wonderful trip to Iceland and Greenland during the summer. The children are now 14 and 12 years and keep us busy with their activities."

PATRICIA PERLITZ Williams, New York, N.Y.: "Have just completed my bachelor's degree at Pace University and am now working on my master's degree at Columbia University, Teachers College, in Personnel Psychology. Plan to finish summer '77. Daughter, Kathleen, is a freshman at MIT. My other daughter, Mary Vaughn, is in the 8th grade. I am currently administrative assistant at a school for the emotionally disturbed."

CAROLYN EVANS McCord, Corpus Christi, Texas: "I was at MBC last summer -- the new campus is beautiful. My daughter, Sharon, is 18 and in college. My son, Mark, is now 16."

CYNTHIA (Skeeter) HUTCHESON Broadbridge, Northbrook, Ill.: "Son, Don, is a freshman at Duke. I'm delighted and looking forward to visiting in the South again. We continue to own and operate a boys' camp in Wisconsin. Other sons are 15 and 8."

DIANA REDE Cabell, Staunton, Va.: "Had a wonderful vacation last March in Switzerland, London, and Paris. Looking forward to seeing everyone on April 30th."

SUSAN ANDES Pittman, Raleigh, N.C.: "The last of my four children is finally in first grade! Whee! Oldest and only daughter is a day student at St. Mary's here in Raleigh. Have joined an exercise group to work off some pounds and inches so I'll be in good shape for our reunion. Have just finished coordinating Christmas International House at our church wherein we hosted 17 foreign students for two weeks over the recent holidays. A job, but a rewarding one!"

1958

JUDY GALLUP Armstrong, Staunton, Va.: "Debbie, my daughter, is now nine. She and I have become skiing enthusiasts. She is also enjoying gym at the "Y" and is doing well with guitar lessons. We are now old hands at driving the interstate to Indiana to her grandparents. I'm planning to renew my teacher's certificate."

1961

15th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

CHARLOTTE LEVERTON Hamner, Anniston, Ala.: "My husband died on December 21, 1975, from cancer. We had planned to come to the reunion, but I don't plan the trip now that he is gone. However, I will be thinking of the Class of '61."

BARBARA WILLIAMS Craig, Durham, N.C.: "Phil and I attended the December wedding of KAY BOBO to Bart Abercrombie in Spartanburg, S.C. Beautiful wedding! Our big adventure during the past year was a trip to Russia last February -- rather cold, but we enjoyed seeing the sights in Leningrad and Moscow. Phil was named manager of the Wheat, First Securities office in Durham last November. We moved during the school semester break in January which made it nice for Alan (13) and Kelley (11). I had been an Art Specialist in grades K-6 for over five years, but resigned when we moved. Would like to hear from any MBC girls in the area."

BLAIR KELSEY Bickford, Norfolk, Va.: "J. V. has started his own home building business under the name of Gideon. I'm his 'girl Friday'! We have three boys in school."

1963

BUNNY WISHART Johnson, Bel Air, Md.: "Am back at college -- working on my R.N. degree. It was a lot easier the first time 'round as a full-time student without the additional family responsibilities, but I'm enjoying the challenge immensely."

FRANCES DAVIS TenBrook, Wilbraham, Mass.: "Our third child, David, was born on Labor Day! Johnny is 6 and Anne is almost 9. We're going to Disney World in April. Still ski and play tennis as much as possible."

PAT FISHER McHold, Severna Park, Md., was made a 'Fellow' in the Maryland Federation of Art Association which means that she is now considered a professional artist by her colleagues.

1965

PEGGY MALONE West, Baltimore, Md.: "Husband, Butch, practicing law. We have three boys -- 5, 7, and 1. I'm up to my ears in car pools and diapers."

CHARLOTTE TYSON Mewborn, Farmville, N.C.: "Husband, John, is assistant regional superintendent with Vocational Rehabilitation. Daughter, Amy, age 5, is in kindergarten. Son, Kevin, age 2. I am active in church work and the Junior Woman's Club. For leisure I enjoy bridge, needlework, and reading."

1966

10th REUNION
April 20 - May 1

JAN WIETHOFF Price, Richmond, Va.: "Enjoy living in Richmond near CAREY GOODWIN Louthan, ALICE TOLLEY Goodwin, and HEIDI BRANDT Robertson. See LATANE WARE Long occasionally. Jim is a lawyer. I am a retired psychiatric social worker. Son, Joel, is in kindergarten."

JEANNIE HARLAN Swallen, Mercer Island, Wash.: "Husband, Dick, district manager for Magic Chef. We have three children: Mary Beth, 8; Brian, 6; and Will, 16 months."

CANDY STANLEY Denton, Memphis, Tenn.: "I am assistant bookkeeper at Idlewild Presbyterian Church.

Daughter, Mary, was born in December; Catherine is now 6 1/2 years old. Husband, Gus, now heads Department of Branch Administration for National Bank of Commerce."

SUSAN SWARTZ Morrison, Overland, Mo.: "Husband, Charlie, has left a ten year career in the Marine Corps to study full-time at Covenant Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri. Upon graduation in June '77, he will receive a Master of Arts in Religion and Counseling."

GAIL APPERSON Kilman, Newark, Del.: "John and I are both still in graduate school at the University of Delaware. I devote my spare time to the Newark Human Services Council and to avoiding the Bicentennial crowds around Philadelphia."

DAVYNNE VERSTANDIG DeMarco, Southbury, Conn.: "I'm teaching English for Columbia College, Columbia Missouri Extension School. My classes are in New York two nights a week and my students are non-commissioned officers in the armed forces! Ray and I are still running our antique business. I submitted my first book of poetry From There to Here and Where to various publishers and am waiting anxiously for news. Our son is 18 months old; off and running!"

JANET WEAVER, New York, N. Y.: "I am an attorney associated with Cravath, Swaine, and Moore, a large Wall Street law firm in New York City."

NINA WEST Guy, Newport News, Va.: "Pete's still in the Army, stationed at Ft. Eustis. Our two girls, Lowery (7 1/2) and Penn (5) and their respective activities keep me busy. I do volunteer work in my spare time."

SUSANNE RAYBURN Bates, Knoxville, Tenn.: "We are moving to Dallas, Texas, in June. Bill is going to do a Fellowship at Parkland. John, 3 1/2, and Jeff, 3, are looking forward to being Texas cowboys. I have been busy this fall with Junior League work and needlepoint and gourmet cooking classes. It's fun to be getting out again after babies, babies, babies! Looking forward to seeing many people at the reunion."

HOPE ROTHERT Taft, Cincinnati, Ohio: "Sorry Bob and I won't be able to join the Class of '66 for my 10th reunion. With Bob's appointment to the State Legislature in January and his last semester in law school, we just can't get away. I'm juggling two households, volunteer work for a psychiatric half-way house, and unpaid service work for Bob's district."

VICKY TUCKER Borden, Greensboro, N.C.: "Living in Greensboro and have two girls: Lou, 5 1/2, and Tucker, 2 1/2."

PENNY HUFF Jones, Marietta, Ga.: "I am presently an officer with the National Bank of Georgia in Atlanta, having been in banking since graduation. Hope to make it to the reunion to be able to see the changes in the campus and to renew friendships which tend to grow stale without personal contact."

JAN BAILEY Wofford, Greenville, S.C.: "Charlie and I have three children -- Katie (5), Claire (3), and Jeb (19 months). They keep me constantly on the go."

BARBI ROBINSON Phillips, Baltimore, Md.: "Two children -- Skipper, 4 1/2, and Heather 1 1/2. Ted and I spend most of our free time on our sailboat."

KATHERINE BOWMAN Burton, Oakton, Va.: "My son, Frederic, was born on January 30, 1975 at 10 p.m. At 10 a.m. that morning his father had a severe heart attack. It's been quite a year!"

LINDA LEA Gregg, White Pine, Mich.: "I live in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. My husband works for a copper company in charge of production. We have two children: Andy, 5, and Scott, 3. I am working part-time as occupational therapist in the intermediate school district."

GLEND A PEARSON Anderson, Annandale, Va.: "Living in Annandale. Have two children -- Zeb, who is 6, and Kate, who is 3 1/2. Talked to MARY LUND recently."

CLAIRE STERN Kaufman, St. Louis, Mo.: "We have moved to a lovely new home and are busy decorating it. We have two daughters -- Elaine (8) and Martha (5). Both Lee and I are very busy in the community. I am on the executive board of the auxiliary of Jewish Hospital and of Temple Emanuel Woman's Club. I am room-mother at Central Presbyterian School and substitute there. The girls keep us very busy."

GENCA KARNEY Mischke, Westminster, Calif., and her husband, Bob, are in the Los Angeles area for a year where Bob is doing a fellowship in neurotology. They have a new baby girl, Melody Ellen, born in September.

1967

ELIZABETH LEATH STIGLER Pearce, Columbus, Ga.: "Neil and I are settled in Columbus for the next few years. We raise birds and dogs as our main interest."

SUSANNE REIM Glass, Earlysville, Va.: "Received M. L. S. degree from the University of Maryland in August, 1975. Promoted to instructor rank at the University of Virginia where I work as periodicals cataloger for the library."

ANNE HERNDON, Winston-Salem, N. C.: "Now at Bowman Gray Medical School, Winston-Salem, as assistant professor of psychology in the Department of Medical Social Science and Marital Health."

CHERYL DINWIDDIE Andre, Winchester, Va.: "My husband, David, is now a partner in his law firm. I am active with tennis, a 'Great Books' reading group, bridge, and our two sons. Christian, 6, is now in first grade and Justin, 2, is enjoying an informal play group. I am still doing extensive needlework and reading."

1968

NANCY GEIGER Bondurant, Chesapeake, Va.: "I am still teaching and am getting my master's from ODU in Elementary Education. My husband is practicing law and enjoying it."

MARY LYNN MILLER, New York, N.Y.: "I'll be completing my M.B.A. at Columbia University in May, then starting a new job (I hope) which I am currently in the process of hunting."

HALLIE COLHOUN Garland, Charlottesville, Va.: "Bob and I have two boys, Rob and John. Still live in Charlottesville and love it."

ELLEN GAW Dean, Laurinburg, N.C.: "Moved to Laurinburg where Dan is now practicing law. Built a new house. Had our second child, Daniel, in October; Sarah Miles is in the first grade."

SUSAN ALEXANDER Yates, Sewickley, Pa.: "We've moved to Sewickley where Johnny is assistant rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. We love it here and Allison (3 1/2) and John (16 months) keep us laughing."

1969

MARTHA NUSSEAR Littlefield, Raleigh, N.C.: "I was appointed to the North Carolina Insurance Commissioner's Task Force to study discrimination of women by the insurance industry, chairing the employment subcommittee. In June I attended the National Association of Insurance Women's Convention in Portland, Oregon, and was one of nine finalists in a speak-off."

JANE TOWNES, Williamsburg, Va.: "I am still a historical archaeologist. Five days a week, I'm also taking two classes, reading for orals, and trying to produce a thesis to make good my six-year-old M.A. credits."

SARA NAIR JAMES Laster, Norfolk, Va.: "My son, Stewart, is 5 and loves nursery school. My daughter, Sara Brooks (Brookie) came a whole month early. She is ten months old now and a real joy!"

JANIE CARTER Vaughan, Richmond, Va.: "David finishes his residency this summer. We will move to Lynchburg in July. We recommend those alumnae trips! We went on the Paris jaunt and had a ball!"

JUDITH CHRISTIAN Ashby, Fredericksburg, Va.: "Conor is practicing law here in Fredericksburg. Our daughter, Claiborne, is now three! I am teaching French at Germanna Community College near here."

1970

DALE SMITH Georgiade, Durham, N.C.: "We are really enjoying our first child, Carolyn. Greg is in his third year of residency in surgery at Duke. I am gaining experience as a housewife."

JAN KREBS Smith, Norfolk, Va., and her husband, Bill, will take their boat to Montreal for the summer olympics. Jan says for Mary Baldwin girls attending the events to stay with her!

DONNA DEARMAN Smith, Birmingham, Ala.: "My husband and I are in Birmingham where he is an engineer for Alabama Power Company. I'm teaching 7th and 8th grade reading and speech at a junior college. We've just bought a house."

MOLLY UPTON Tarr, Winchester, Mass.: "Life for me is exciting and unpredictable as I watch and follow our Billy-boy discovering his world. Bob is finishing his M.A. at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in May in international business law. I've grown to love New England more each year."

JANET ERNST Mills, Newburgh, N.Y.: "Jeff is an assistant professor at West Point. Tom is 5 and Timothy is 4 months. We'll be moving this summer."

1971

5th REUNION
April 30 - May 1

MELISSA WIMBISH, Richmond, Va.: "Working as a legal assistant in Richmond. Talked to EDITH SCHNEIDER Roques recently. She lives in Toulouse, France, teaches English to French businessmen and has a year-old son, Frederick Robert."

ELIZABETH (Buff) FORE, Richmond, Va.: "I am still working at the Richmond Welfare Department with foster children and attending VCU School of Social Work part-time and enjoying Richmond."

SUSAN VAUGHT Fuhr, Lexington, Ky.: "Graduated from Seminary in May '75 while finishing a year as chaplain at the Medical College of Virginia. I was ordained in August, 1975. My husband, Michael (a German minister), and I plan to move to Germany in October '76. Hope to be at the reunion!"

SALLY COBB CANNON, Athens, Ga.: "I am a first year law student at the University of Georgia."

BONNIE BRACKETT Weaver, West Palm Beach, Fla.: "I am working as an aide to a Florida state senator and I travel to Tallahassee during the legislative session. I have been active in local democratic politics and am still enjoying tennis and painting in my spare time."

LAURA WITHERS Reinhart, Honolulu, Hawaii: "Never thought I'd be flying for four years! I am based in Honolulu with Pan Am and enjoy the flights to the Orient. I loved January visits with BONNIE BRACKETT Weaver in Palm Beach and BROWNIE LAWRENCE Clinton in Tennessee."

SUSAN POPE Finch, Raleigh, N.C.: "I am extremely busy trying to keep up with our even busier 18-month-old Todd and teaching piano to groups and giving private lessons to both children and adults."

ELLEN PORTER Holtman, Roanoke, Va.: "Roger and I have bought a house in Roanoke. I'm teaching biology and working in the Sierra Club and Science Museum activities."

MARY MURRIN Painter, Summit, N.J.: "I am continuing free-lance art work along with my part-time horticulturist/interior plantscaping business. I will be teaching horse-back riding in the New Jersey countryside this spring. Four and a half happy years now with Jamie."

KIT O'BANNON, Charlottesville, Va.: "Am presently teaching undergrads and finishing my M.A. at U.Va.; am a 'red hot momma' in a cabaret presented by the University League; dwelling in a stable on the Rivanna resevoir."

COLLEEN CANNING Coyner, Waynesboro, Va.: "I am enjoying being a full-time mother to my 18-month-old baby boy, Ryan Taylor. Norman teaches a vocational therapy class in a county school. We enjoy living on a farm and the spring and summer are really busy with gardening and preserving."

EMILY PAINES Brady, Lexington, Mass.: "Working on town politics now...oh, for North Bailey again!"

KATE GLADDEN Schultz, Winchester, Va.: "My husband is practicing law in Winchester. My roommate, LEE WILLEY Bowman, is living in Berkeley, California. Her husband, Dave, is in graduate school there. She is working for a well-known law firm."

J. J. HILL Doughtie, Memphis, Tenn.: "Dick and I are in Memphis. He is clerk of the bankruptcy court. I am involved with LeBonheur Children's Hospital. We have a son named Oliver."

LORRA KEEN Hines, Toronto, Canada: "Have just moved to Toronto from Kingston, Ontario. Bill is in the credit room of the head office of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. I am working in the information centre (library) of the same bank and trying to decide if - and when - I want to earn an M.L.S. from the University of Toronto. Toronto is the beautiful city it claims to be. Come see us!"

NANCY MORSE Woodring, Akron, Ohio: "Have married and am in Akron managing a Lane Bryant store locally. Husband, Jim, is a furniture buyer for a local department store. We're looking forward to coming to MBC for our reunion!"

KAE ENGLISH Roberts, Columbus, Ohio: "I am now a medical technologist in clinical chemistry at Ohio State University Hospital. Husband, Bill, is completing his internship in internal medicine at OSU."

PAULA POWERS Tchirkow, Cleveland Heights, Ohio: "George continues his residency at the Cleveland Clinic and I have my hands full with 18-months-old Anne! Enjoy photography and dark-room work in my spare time."

ANN ELIZABETH ALLEN, Alexandria, Va.: "Working as a paralegal for a Washington, D.C. law firm. Doing volunteer work with the Washington International Center through the Junior League; wonderful opportunity for practicing French and Spanish with foreign visitors. I have traveled to Costa Rica and Puerto Rico recently, also to Austria for skiing."

ELIZABETH TOMS Chaplin, Charlotte, N.C.: "I'm librarian at a school which spans grades 1 through 12. (I got my master's degree in library science last summer.)

My husband is an attorney with a Charlotte firm. We moved to Charlotte last August."

PAM SPEARMAN, Carrboro, N.C.: "I am a hairdresser in Chapel Hill and am working on a master's degree in counseling. I'm still directing a wonderful church's two choirs."

1973

MARY JANE CONGER, Williamsburg, Va.: "I received my master's in history from U. Va. in August, 1975. Enjoy my present job working in the library at the College of William and Mary."

ROBYN TIMBERLAKE Ruth, Lake Waccamaw, N.C.: "I have completed my master's in clinical psychology and am now working with families of alcoholics at the mental health center in Wilmington. I am also enjoying being a preacher's wife, particularly because the preacher is Bill! We just celebrated our 1 1/2 year anniversary!"

1974

SUSAN POOLE, Richmond, Va.: "I spent one year working for an insurance company. I entered Union Theological Seminary in September, 1975, and I really love it here. I hope to work in a church this summer."

MARY PAIGE TEMPLE, Virginia Beach, Va.: "I am a credit analyst with Virginia National Bank in Norfolk -- living at Virginia Beach. Really love it!"

CAROLINE MARGARET PRICE, Delhi, N.Y.: "I am a second year student at Union Theological Seminary in New York and am working as the student minister of a small church in the Catskills."

1975

1st REUNION
April 30 - May 1

LUCY MARGARET PAIS, Williamsburg, Va.: "I am at the College of William and Mary working on my master's in special education. I am rooming with CINDY JOHN-SON who is employed at Busch Gardens."

SUZANNE HIGGINS, Columbus, Ohio: "I've made what must be one of the ultimate transitions in academics -- from Mary Baldwin to Ohio State. More importantly, I've retained my student status while indulging in my pet interest -- working toward a master's degree in historic preservation law and administration."

DEBBY DAVIS, Texarkana, Ark.: "Currently attending law school at the University of Arkansas with plans to finish in May, 1978 -- if they don't finish me first!"

MERRY KAY SHERNOCK, Charlottesville, Va.: "I am beginning work on my M.A. thesis in public administration at U. Va. I plan to get the degree at the end of this summer."

ANNE MERRY, Augusta, Ga.: "I am an English teacher for grades 9 and 11 at the Augusta Preparatory School. Also, I am quite active in set design and construction for the Augusta Players, Inc., of which I am also a member of the Board of Directors."

CHRISTINE MAGEE, Charlottesville, Va.: "I am enjoying the master's program in Drama at the University of Virginia."

NANCY NOWAK, Williamsburg, Va.: "I am currently studying for an M.A. in sociology at William and Mary and enjoying it."

PAM SHELL, Petersburg, Va.: "I'm attending T. C. Williams Law School in Richmond."

LIBBY McCULLOUGH Ferguson, Dallas, Texas: "My husband and I have a 15-months-old daughter who keeps me hopping most of the time. Besides mothering, I am actively involved in the Mary Baldwin College Alumnae Association of Dallas. We just completed raising some money for the college through our annual Antique Forum; this year we also incorporated needlework. My husband is currently a lawyer for Lone Star Life Insurance Company of S. S. Kresge. Will not be able to attend the reunion due to other plans made for the 30th of April - May 1st. Perhaps next time."

ROB SERGEANT, Staunton, Va.: "I am teaching freshman composition at Madison College and have 20% of my M.A. in English. There are more women than men at Madison, but the odds are not even close to the ones at MBC. A big picture of my alma mater hangs over my desk."

MARISUE WING, Baltimore, Md.: "Volunteer at John F. Kennedy Institute, Baltimore, in the occupational therapy department. Planning to go to graduate school this fall for a master's in occupational therapy."

NOEL CARSON, Blacksburg, Va.: "I am in graduate school at Radford College working on my master's degree in clinical psychology."

SUSAN GREEN, Durham, N.C.: "I am working at Duke University Medical Center in North Carolina's new statewide pre-kindergarten screening program."

FLORENCE JONES, Charleston, W. Va.: "Working on a master's of business administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Will graduate with the Class of '77."

NANCY MONCURE Stikes, Mobile, Ala.: "I work as a medical technologist at the University of South Alabama Medical Center, where Phillip is in medical school. I miss MBC, K. D. H., and Staunton very much."

JANNEY SHOEMAKER, Frederick, Md.: "I am teaching English, Art, and Reading at Catoctin High School in Thurmont, Maryland."

Marriages

KAY BOBO '61 to William B. Abercrombie, December 6, 1975.

BERYL-ANN JOHNSON '66 to John Morton Havey, December 31, 1975.

MARTHA BOOTH '70 to John Charles Jennison, III, November 29, 1975.

ROSELLEN VIA '72 to Larkin Matthews, November 1, 1975.

SARA LEE ALLEN '72 to Thomas E. Moody, May, 1975.

ANN FULTON SKINNER '74 to Robert S. Hornsby, August 24, 1974.

LAURA LEE JOHNSON '75 to Daniel C. Schultz, December 20, 1975.

Births

To KATHERINE BOWMAN Burton '66 and Frederic, a son, Frederic, January 30, 1975.

To CANDY STANLEY Denton '66 and Gus, a daughter, Mary Blanchard, December 3, 1975.

To GENCA KARNEY Mischke '66 and Bob, a daughter, Melody Ellen, September 23, 1975.

To BETSY CLARK Erskine '68 and Wayne, a son, Benjamin Clark, December 31, 1975.

To NANCY GEIGER Bondurant '68 and Walton, a daughter, Ami Michelle, November 15, 1975.

To ELLEN GAW Dean '68 and Dan, a son, Daniel Brian, October 4, 1975.

To ANN TRUSLER Faith '69 and Skip, a son, John, September, 1975.

To JANET ERNST Mills '70 and Jeff, a son, Timothy Andrew, October 2, 1975.

To CATHERINE DABNEY Edwards '71 and John, a son, John, Jr., October 4, 1975.

To BARBARA LEAVITT Franklin '71 and Humes, a son, Humes, III, November 25, 1975.

To LLOYD CATHER Dickson '71 and David, a son, Tyler Cather, September 1, 1975.

To SUSAN JONES Bell '73 and John, a daughter, Elizabeth Dabney, September 29, 1975.

To EVE HITCHMAN Morrison '74 and John, a daughter, Margaret Grace, February 3, 1976.

In Memoriam

DESIREE L. FRANKLIN '95, February 5, 1976.

NANNIE HIGGINBOTHAM Higginbotham, December, 1975.

MARY SYDNOR Carver '07, December 24, 1975.

SARAH BELL Wysor '12, February 10, 1976.

FRANCES WOODWARD Bryan '23, December 27, 1975.

ROCIER CRAIG MARTIN '25, October 4, 1975.

ANN GAULDING Crymes '43, December 20, 1975.

MARY AGNES PRINTZ Ayscue '49, February 1, 1976.

ANNE ROBINSON Brown '54, November 14, 1975.

BETWEEN HAM AND JAM

Emily Wirsing Kelly '63 and Virginia Warner Munce '47 discuss cookbook plans at a recent meeting in the Alumnae House.

"What's Cooking for MBC?"

The Alumnae Association cookbook project is moving ahead in many areas around the country. A number of additional local meetings are being scheduled as a means to gather recipes which will then be tested locally from May through September. These meetings will give alumnae an opportunity to submit their best recipes and also to hear about activities on the campus, perhaps from a current student. Plans call for the collection of all recipes by April 30, 1976.

On the opposite page is the official recipe form for your use. Clip it out and enter your recipe. When notice is received about a local alumnae gathering, be sure to have your recipe form ready to take to the meeting or to mail in if you cannot attend. Additional forms will be available at the meeting or may be requested from the Alumnae Office. The national cookbook chairman has recently suggested that, in addition to the types of recipes suggested on the form, microwave oven and crock-pot recipes are needed.

As this issue goes to press, "What's Cooking" meetings are being promoted during the spring weeks in the following cities: Birmingham, Mobile, and Montgomery, Ala.; Wilmington, Del.; Orlando, Fla.; Augusta, Ga.; Baltimore, Md.; Greenville, Charlotte, and Winston-Salem, N.C.; Allentown, Pa.; Columbia, S.C.; Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex.; Norfolk-Virginia Beach, Petersburg, Blacksburg, Winchester, Va. as well as Arlington (Northern Virginia Chapter) and Appomattox, Va. (Southside Virginia Chapter).

Other gatherings will take place during the spring. Alumnae who live out of areas of alumnae concentration are invited to mail their recipes directly to the Alumnae Office as soon as possible. Also, please indicate if you would be willing to test some of the recipes.

Winter Alumnae Gatherings

February 5—Houston, Tex. A morning coffee was held at the home of Minne Lee Mahony Cinther '30. Roy K. Patteson Jr., vice-president for development was guest speaker. Recipes were collected for the Mary Baldwin cookbook and Naja Hassen White '55 agreed to serve as cookbook chairman for Houston. Barbara Bullock Graham '57, member of the Alumnae Association Board of Directors, was in charge of arrangements.

February 17—Atlanta, Ga. An evening meeting was held at the home of Cathy Turner Temple '68 under the leadership of Jo Anne Hoffman Jay '70, chapter chairman. Guests from Mary Baldwin were Virginia Warner Munce '47, director of alumnae activities, Roy K. Patteson Jr., vice-president for development, and Peggy Evans '68, assistant director of admissions. Also present was Anna Kate Reid Hipp '63 of Greenville, S.C., a trustee of the college. Recipes were brought to the meeting for the forthcoming cookbook, for which Mrs. Jay will serve as area chairman.

February 26—Roanoke-Salem, Va. The home of Emily Wirsing Kelly '63, President of the Alumnae Association, was the setting for a morning coffee for area alumnae. Virginia Warner Munce '47, director of alumnae activities, and a current student reported on the college. Recipes were collected from alumnae interested in contributing to the cookbook. Cookbook co-chairmen for the Roanoke area are Susan Savage Bolling '63 and Kitty Lou Timmell Ward '61.

February 28—Richmond, Va. A chapter luncheon was held at the home of Angier Brock Caudle '69. Guest speakers were several current students who described their externships during the January term. Also present from the college were Virginia Munce and Professor and Mrs. Bernard Logan. Suzanne Jones Stone '69 and Carolyn Avery '73 are co-chairmen of the chapter. The collection of recipes from Richmond alumnae was discussed. Margaret Getty Wilson '48 will serve as cookbook chairman.

Items of Note . . .

Join the Mary Baldwin flight to Vienna, May 4-12, leaving from Dulles Airport. Imagine a week in beautiful Vienna in the spring! For further information, contact the Alumnae Office.

Have you sent in your job form? If you are employed, we want to have facts about your job on file in the Alumnae House for student reference. Forms can be obtained upon request.

"WHAT'S COOKING FOR MBC?"

Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia 24401

MBC COOKBOOK RECIPE FORM

Symbols:	tsp. = teaspoon	lb. = pound	qt. = quart
	tbsp. = tablespoon	oz. = ounce	pt. = pint
	c. = cup	gal. = gallon	pkg. = package

Donated by: _____
first _____ middle _____ last name _____

Address: _____

Telephone number: () _____ Class: _____

Special requests are: apple recipes, recipes for quick and easy entertaining, lunchbox ideas, recipes that can be fixed ahead, those for backyard entertaining and large crowds, home canning/freezing, jelly/pickle making, and recipes for game.

Name of dish: _____

(If it is a recipe of a friend or relative, call it "Jane Doe's Potato Salad")

Ingredients: (List in order of occurrence and state quantities of each, including size in ounces or pounds of packages and cans used)

Directions: Tell as explicitly as if you were explaining to a beginner cook)

Makes _____ servings

Approximate preparation time prior to cooking: _____

Garnishes? Variations? Hints as to serving, storing, freezing, and thawing:

What foods complement it best?

How long will it keep?

Any other comments of interest? (Historical notes, etc.)

Do you know any good household hints? Cooking hints? Entertaining hints? Any recipes that make good gifts?

Do you have a title suggestion for the Mary Baldwin cookbook?

FOR TESTERS: Does this recipe tell you everything you needed to know to prepare it? Did it look appetizing? Does it serve easily? Is it seasoned properly? Please write your rating (excellent, good, fair, poor) and any comments:

1. Tested by: _____ Date: _____

2. Tested by: _____ Date: _____

MARY BALDWIN CHAIRS

The Captain's Chair $72.00 plus tax

The Boston Rocker $65.00 plus tax

Satin lacquer black finish with silk-screened seal in gold.

Shipped freight collect from Boone, North Carolina.

MARY BALDWIN NEEDLEPOINT KITS

The Mary Baldwin seal is now available marked in color on a canvas 15" by 15". Persian yarn is provided for working the design and all is packaged in a plastic case. $25.00 plus tax
(Shipping cost included.)

Mary Baldwin College
Staunton, Virginia 24401

RECOGNIZED BY
AMERICAN REVOLUTION
BICENTENNIAL
ADMINISTRATION

Mary Baldwin

College Trustees Elect
Dr. Virginia L. Lester
President

